		ormance Summary			-					3
Business Unit: Executive/Director Name: Reporting Period:		Reentry Services Tom Combs, Admininstrator, Reentry Administration Jan 2017	Description:	: Reentry Administration is committed to providing all vital documentation and academic skills training for prisoners to enhance their ability to acquire and maintain employment upon release.					Yellow Red	pproved:	>=90% of target >=75% - 90% of target <75% of target 2/21/2017
Metric ID		Metric	Status	Progress	Target	Current	Previous	Frequen		рргочец.	Metric Definition
/5 - Human REA-01		ilal Care, Rehabilitative Opportunities, ig Required Programming - % Prisoners		sistance	80.0%	82.8% January, 2017	80.0%	Monthly		thought proc behavioral te programming and need lev earliest relea Violence Pre Parole Board year for paro which a prisc Services Div programming programming programming of parole Be number of pr	gramming focuses on changing the a prisoner esses utilizing cognitive restructuring and chniques. Prisoners are considered for while incarcerated based on their assessed el and are prioritized for programming by thei se date (ERD). Eligible prisoners participate i vention Program - Moderate programming. Ti considers approximately 15.000 prisoners [6] to er continuance on the prison sentence(s) for a serving. It is the goal of the Reentry sion that offenders have completed the required is complete when the prisoner is considered and. A higher percentage indicates a greater isoners being better prepared, in advance of the Parole Board.
REA-03	CTE/Vocational Cer	tifications - # Completed	Red	•₽	450	329 FY 2017, Q1	441	Quarterly		approximatel Department i workplace sk their ability to release. A his completions	Department of Corrections (MDOC) release; y 10,000 prisoners each year, and the scommitted to providing technical and ills training for prisoners designed to enhance acquire and maintain employment upon the prisoner of CTE/Vocational Certificate ondicates greater preparation by prisoners for maintaining employment upon their release.
REA-04	Employment Readin	ess Program - # Completions	Green	•₽	600	817 FY 2017, Q1	1040	Quarterly		approximatel Department i training for pracquire and r number of Er indicates gre	n Department of Corrections (MDOC) release; y 10,000 prisoners each year, and the scommitted to providing workplace skills isoners designed to enhance their ability to maintain employment upon release. A higher polyment Readiness Program completions after preparation by prisoners for seeking and imployment upon their release.
REA-05	Applications for Birth	n Certificates - # Completed	Green	√	600	2139 FY 2017, Q1	1063	Quarterly		approximatel Department i possession or release (e.g., in possession	n Department of Corrections (MDOC) release y 10,000 prisoners each year on parole, and committed to ensuring that each prisoner is fi necessary vital documents upon his/her bith certificate). A higher number of prisone of these documents upon their release erall, their ability to acquire and maintain
REA-06		Returned to Prison Within 12 Months of eting the Program Requirements - %	Green	₹.	20.0%	19.7% January, 2017	20.0%	Monthly		County Residunspecified r Department is rate and recidisto give the prison after of	n Department of Corrections (MDOC) Lake lential Reentry Program (LCRRP) releases a number of prisoners each year, and the s committed to reducing the prison commitme thism rate of its population. The goal of LCRI offenders the skills needed to not return to ompleting the brief programming. The lower ta te the better the progress being made.
REA-07	Prisoners Completing	g Required Programming - % Prisoners			80.0%	55.3%		Monthly		thought procibehavioral te behavioral te programming and need lev earliest relea Violence Pre Parole Board year for paro which a prisc Services Div programming pro	gramming focuses on changing the a prisoner sesse utilizing cognitive restructuring and chiniques. Prisoners are considered for while incarcerated based on their assessed el and are prioritized for programming by thei se date (ERD). Eligible prisoners participate i vention Program - High programming. The considers approximately 15,000 prisoners pa le or continuance on the prison sentence(s) for mer is serving. It is the goal of the Reemty sion that offenders have completed the requin 1,8 months in advance of ERD, so that the is complete when the prisoner is considered pard. A higher percentage indicates a greater isoners being better prepared, in advance of y the Parole Board.
REA-08	Prisoners Completin Completing	g Required Programming - % Prisoners			80.0%	88.6% January, 2017		Monthly		thought proc behavioral te programming and need lev earliest relea Thinking for a considers ap or continuan is serving. It offenders har months in ad complete wh Board. A high	gramming focuses on changing the a prisoner sesse sufflizing cognitive restructuring and chinques. Prisoners are considered for while incarcerated based on their assessed el and are prioritized for programming by thei se date (ERD). Eligible prisoners participate i a Change programming. The Parole Board proximately 15,000 prisoners per year for par eo nt the prison sentence(s) for which a priso is the goal of the Reentry Services Division the ve completed the required programming is vance of ERD, so that the programming is on the prisoner is considered by the Parole ere percentage indicates a greater number of ng better prepared, in advance of being seen pard.
REA-09	Prisoners Completin Copmleting	ig Required Programming - % Prisoners			80.0%	60.9% January, 2017		Monthly		thought procibehavioral te programming and need lev earliest relea Batterers Inte Board consic parole or cor prisoner is se Division that programming programming	pramming focuses on changing the a prisoner sesse suffizing cognitive restructuring and chinques. Prisoners are considered for while incarcerated based on their assessed el ada (ERD). Eligible prisoners participate evention/ Bridges programming. The Parole ers approximately 15,000 prisoners per year tituance on the prison sentence(s) for which roving. It is the goal of the Reentry Services offenders have completed the required 18 months in advance of ERD, so that the is complete when the prisoner is considered pard. A higher percentage indicates a greater number of prisoners being better prepared, in advance of being seen by the Parole Board.

REA-10	Prisoners Completing Required Programming - % Prisoners Completing			80.0%	83.3% January, 2017		Monthly	Prisoner programming focuses on changing the a prisoner's thought processes utilizing cognitive restructuring and behavioral techniques. Prisoners are considered for programming while incarcerated based on their assessed risk and need level and are prioritized for programming by their earliest release date (ERD). Eligible prisoners participate in Meridians programming. The Parole Board considers approximately 15,000 prisoners per year for parole or continuance on the prison sentence(s) for which a prisoner is serving. It is the goal of the Reentry Services Division that offenders have completed the required programming 8 months in advance of ERD, so that the programming is complete when the prisoner is considered by the Parole Board. A higher percentage indicates a greater number of prisoners being better prepared, in advance of being seen by the Parole Board.
REA-11	Prisoners Completing Required Programming - % Prisoners Completing			80.0%	78.3% January, 2017		Monthly	Prisoner programming focuses on changing the a prisoner's thought processes utilizing cognitive restructuring and behavioral techniques. Prisoners are considered for programming while incarcerated based on their assessed risk and need level and are prioritized for programming by their earliest release date (ERD). Eligible prisoners participate in Moving On programming. The Parole Board considers approximately 15,000 prisoners per year for parole or continuance on the prison sentence(s) for which a prisoner is serving. It is the goal of the Reentry Services Division that offenders have completed the required programming 8 months in advance of ERD, so that the programming is complete when the prisoner is considered by the Parole Board. A higher percentage indicates a greater number of prisoners being better prepared, in advance of being seen by the Parole Board.
REA-02	GED Certificates - # GED Certificates Completed	Red	∆	450	292 FY 2017, Q1	278	Quarterly	The Michigan Department of Corrections (MDOC) releases approximately 10,000 prisoners each year, and the Department is committed to providing academic skills training for prisoners designed to enhance their ability to acquire and maintain employment upon release. A higher number of GED Certificate completions indicates greater preparation by prisoners for seeking and maintaining employment upon their release.